

Valiant Hearts, Book Four: The War

Stephanie's mission to Aechor proved that the Moahs are on the offensive and has indeed invaded the country, but she was not aware of the extent of its power. She had hoped that the war would start after she graduated from the North Amber Academy as a combat student but Moah has already declared a World War and it will not be defeated like the last time. With the war in full swing, Stephanie and the rest of her classmates will not take the final examinations as the Academy has joined the war. They will go instead to the forefront to fight the enemies and defend freedom as their field test. Is Stephanie prepared for war? Are her skills enough to battle the enemies?
